Since 1947 Visottica-Comotec has been worldwide leader in metal components for the optical sector. The Group offers a wide range of products for different kinds of frames: metal, acetate, injection, wood and other materials, supplying both standard products and personalized solutions developed side by side with customers.

The variety of technologies available in the organization allows a wide offer of customized products. Milling, CN cutting, cold stamping, micro-fusion and MIM (offered in collaboration with partners) are utilized singularly and in combination to find the best solution to satisfy customer's needs. The products obtained by stamping process include hinges (both flex and regular), end parts, bridges, decorative elements and temples (flex and regular). Researching innovative materials is a key element of the development cycle; the most common ones are nickel-silver, stainless steel, titanium and several alloys. The plastics department is able to reproduce logos and decorations in high definition (also in 3D), representing a perfect opportunity to personalize nose pads. Visottica-Comotec philosophy is to give full support from the development of an idea, and its design, all the way to engineering, prototyping and making the final product, working together with customers as ideal partners not just suppliers.

Visottica-Comotec Catalogues offer a variety of solutions for different kinds of products (flex and regular hinges, wires, temples, screws, nuts, nose pads and pad arms), in order to meet the most common needs, technical and cosmetic, that might arise during the development of a new frame. Standardization allows to work on a forecast and to produce to stock, shortening the lead time and guaranteeing a quick and flexible service. The big volumes produced lead to cost savings, which puts the Company in the position of being competitive in the market.

Wingram is in the business of plastic manufacturing with a particular focus on sustainable and eco-friendly alternatives. In terms of eyewear products, Wingram's newest BioAcetate S70 series is an eco-friendly material that aims to replace conventional acetate.

In terms of performance, BioAcetate S70 stands out because of its Hardness Enhanced CA (HECA) properties. Frames made from Bioacetate S70 will not shrink or deform, has superior polishing, increased glossiness, is anti-brittle, and has highly reduced material cracking and waste during all production phases.

As a material, BioAcetate S70 is applicable to injection molding and acetate sheet production. When compared to traditional acetate, BioAcetate S70 stands out because it is renewable, recyclable, sustainable, free of harmful plasticizers such as DEP, biobased, and biodegradable. Of particular importance is that BioAcetate S70 offers an end-of-life solution to the material because it is biodegradable according to the international standard of ISO 14855.

The main drawback to BioAcetate S70 is the price premium for its enhanced performance and planet benefits when compared to traditional acetate.
